

Grade 7 Life Orientation Career Day

The 21st and 22nd of September saw Erasmia Primary School filled with the excited voices of eager and enthusiastic learners, donned in the uniform of their chosen career. Among the many budding accountants, lawyers, and doctors, we also played host to some interesting characters: a brainy geneticist, an adventurous archaeologist and a number of future Michelin-Star chefs! Also present in this eclectic group was a dapper pilot, an army general in full camouflage, some glamorous singers and yes, even teachers (ah, bless)!

As part of the Life Orientation curriculum for Term 3, learners had to complete a project showcasing ideas for career choices that suited them.

The topic centered around career fields, the qualities relating to each field (interests and abilities), school subjects needed and the duration of study, the work environment and daily activities of their career choice, potential for growth and challenges, services and sources of information, and job opportunities. Learners were also taught the value and importance of work in fulfilling their personal needs and potential.

We wish our Grade 7 group all the best with their future endeavors and encourage them to keep AIMING HIGH!
